Center:
The Many Possible Repercussions of the COVID-19 Vaccine
A Special Interview With Barbara Loe Fisher
By Dr. Joseph Mercola

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

Welcome everyone. Dr. Mercola, helping you take control of your health in these crazy and turbulent times. And we are joined today by a frequently recurrent guest, Barbara Loe Fisher. And she's joining us to give us an update on, really, a vitally important topic in these troubled times now, which changed in the last year and updated. And as we're recording this, which is a few weeks before it's going to be seen by you, we have a celebration because the FDA (Food and Drug Administration) licensed, transitioned the Emergency Use Authorization to full approval of the Pfizer vaccine. Full approval, even though it has not been tested and Barbara is going to give us insights on that, all the insanity of why this is one of the most ridiculous approvals ever by the FDA.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

But before we get into that and all these other incredible updates you're going to love, this is – what catalyzed this interview is that this is being done in conjunction with our 12th, can you believe a dozen years now, the 12th annual Vaccine Awareness Week. And I'm kind of delighted that I was an early adopter in this area because there was very few percentage – and maybe you can relate to the percentage of the population that was aware of these – it's certainly way less than 10%. My guess is below somewhere between one and 5%. In 2008 was when we first joined forces, so we've been supporting her every year and we're actually one of the, I think I am the biggest donor for this organization, which has been around for 35 years, 35 to 40 years.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

We're celebrating our 40th anniversary in April of 2022.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

All right. So 40 years, Barb has been – I mean, talk about, I'm delighted to be an early adopter. She preceded me, because I really wasn't aware of the dangers of vaccines until probably the mid to late '90s before it became into my consciousness. And then I realized about a decade later that Barb was really the leader in this area. So that's why I wanted to join forces with her because I just had this deep, profound sadness of all the damage it did to kids. Still have challenges with that. So I wanted to rectify that by supporting. And if you read the news, I'm made out to be a criminal because I'm somehow supporting this organization when there's absolutely no benefit to me, I don't benefit in any way, shape or form.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

So hopefully this conversation and the long years of the support we have will inspire you to also support Barbara's mission and she will share with you the specific detail on how that support has been used within the past year. So with all that long introduction, Barb, welcome. Thank you for joining us.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

Well, thank you so much, Dr. Mercola. Yes, it's really kind of surreal for me to watch what has unfolded since the winter of 2020 in that I predicted in the 1990s, when I was speaking on particularly the chiropractic conference circuit, I predicted that the day would come when we would not be able to function in society unless we had received every government-recommended vaccine. I didn't exactly understand how they would get there, but well now we know how they got there. And it's like living my worst nightmare that I actually thought my children and grandchildren would be grappling with after I was long gone.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

And instead, after 40 years, I'm here to witness it, and it's very disturbing. But also within this difficult challenge, we have opportunity, because I truly think that what they've done has completely changed the public's view of public health officials and of public health in general, policy in general. And I don't think they're going to recover perhaps ever, but certainly not for a long, long time. The perception that the public has not been told the whole truth about how this virus came about, about the way in which they handled it, which certainly, if you look at it really clearly, you see that psychological warfare in a way has been used to create such fear and anxiety in the minds of so many people that they were willing to give up fundamental civil liberties in order to feel safe – [it's] an illusion of safety.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

What has been done to societies, to our society, and societies around the world, in terms of economic ruin, psychological problems that people are going to have, particularly children who have been forced to put masks on their face all this time, is incalculable, really. And so I think they have overreached because they're zealots in seeing that everyone should, or thinking that everyone should get all these vaccines in order to keep the public safe.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

Yeah. Well, it's amazing this outrageous propaganda that has been used to catalyze fear, which allows them to implement their ridiculous strategies to address this, that are beyond highly irrational unless you use the perspective of rational from the point of increasing their revenues big time. We're talking hundreds, hundreds of billions of dollars just in this year alone. Just in that last year, it's a hundred billion dollars. And more, so recurring revenue. I mentioned earlier in the intro that Pfizer just approved the vaccine, [inaudible 00:06:14] boosters. Who knows the frequency of the boosters – probably twice a year, maybe three times or four times a year, who knows?

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

So I wanted to go back to a question I had in my intro with you with respect to the percentage of the population, at least in the United States, because those are the numbers we know most accurately. And I'm sure you're familiar with the statistics there. The percentage of the people who are either vaccine-hesitant, or maybe I think it's an unfair categorization use anti-vax because it's really pro-vaccine safety, but they like to disparage it and twist the language to discredit us. So, what is the percentage now and what do you think, with these outrageous reprehensible falsehoods that have been spread by the mainstream media, what has that changed to? I think it's about 40% to 50% of people who previously were pro-vax. I mean, even vaccinologists like Robert Malone and many physicians who got all the vaccines that were recommended, are now highly opposed to this COVID shot.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

Well, we know from polls that about two-thirds of people do not want vaccine mandates. They do not want to be forced to show a vaccine passport in order to participate in society, enter a restaurant or a store, hold a job, go to college, et cetera. There is definitely not an appetite in this country for mandatory use of this COVID-19 vaccine. But what we have seen over the past 18 months to – we're coming up on two years really – is that a growing number of people are asking questions and I think it's significant that the doctors and health care workers, the frontline workers on this pandemic, in large numbers, are refusing the vaccine.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

And when I say large numbers, I'm talking 25% or to 30% are resisting. That's quite significant when they're the ones who have been taking care of these patients in hospitals. And I think that when you have – in fact, there was a letter that was sent to the U.K. government in mid-August, where physicians and scientists signed the letter and said, "There needs to be a reevaluation of how the government has responded to this virus." [They are] challenging the government to reevaluate these draconian lockdowns and these policies that have harmed societies around the world.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

They were speaking specifically in the United Kingdom where there have been many more lockdowns. And part of the reason you're seeing more stringent lockdowns in other countries is that they don't have the same system of government that we have, in this country we have a three-tiered system of government. Thank goodness our founders put that into the Constitution. We have a federal government and we have state governments and we also have local governments. [They have] taken this sort of centralized approach which you're seeing in countries in Europe where they're holding massive demonstrations.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

Hundreds of thousands of people showing up again and again, in the cities of London, Paris, Rome, Athens, Berlin, protesting these vaccine passports because these are centralized governments that don't have the state or local governments that we have here. Where here we've seen states – 21 states – that have passed legislation this year prohibiting COVID vaccine mandates in some form. This is good news for us, and we can talk about this more later, but I really feel that you have a much greater awareness now because of this overreach about vaccine issues that really transcend COVID.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

We've been talking about these issues about vaccine ineffectiveness, leaky vaccines, like this one is, as well as vaccine safety issues, for 40 years. So these issues aren't just relevant for COVID. I'm hoping that this conversation is going to widen to taking a real critical look at the entire mass vaccination system that is the centerpiece of public health policies around the world.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

Yeah. So maybe a third of the people have this awareness. Now, what do you think this awareness and appropriate concern for the safety of vaccines was before all this craziness started, pre-2020? Was it about 5% or [crosstalk 00:11:02]?

Barbara Loe Fisher:

Back in the day, back when we started in the early 1980s, we were the parents of DPT (diphtheria, pertussis and tetanus) vaccine-injured children, and we worked with Congress on the 1986 National Childhood Vaccine Injury Act. It was such a different time. There was no information at all for the public about vaccine risks. Doctors did not discuss it at all with parents because parents knew nothing. So when a-

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

And they knew equally as much.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

Well, that's true. They [doctors] don't get any education on it in medical school as you know – it's just get the vaccine into the child. But this whole issue that is the number one topic around the world today began decades ago, and it had to do with the safety of childhood vaccines. When I came into this work, it was seven vaccines we were giving our children, the diphtheria, pertussis, and tetanus, the DPT shot, measles, mumps, and rubella, an MMR shot, and oral polio vaccine. That was it, that's all the children got.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

And I went in practice in '85 and that's exactly the schedule I was giving to my patients. No question. And it changed in the '80s. Or '80s or the '90s, right?

Barbara Loe Fisher:

In the '90s. It was really the big push, was in the early '90s.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

Yeah. Can we address that for a moment because I'm pretty convinced that you're going to agree with this. It seems as the catalyst and the stimulus to have this radical increase in the number of shots. And it just makes so much sense, if you think about it, was a bill that you were responsible, partly responsible for, and sometimes criticized for, which is the 1986 vaccine-

Barbara Loe Fisher:

It was the National Childhood Vaccine Injury Act.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

Yeah, 1986, which essentially insulated all the vaccine makers from any liability at all. So they said-

Barbara Loe Fisher:

No. Wait, wait, hold.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

Okay. You take it from there but let me just finish the concept.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

Okay.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

It's insulation from liability is what catalyzed that they knew they had a gravy train, and they went to the races, created all these new vaccines and this is what exploded, literally exploded the number of vaccines. It wasn't this acute understanding that they had an effective strategy to eliminate disease in mankind. No, they had an acute opportunity to generate incredible profits.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

Yeah, here's the deal. And I really encourage people to watch "1986: The Act," the movie, the "1986: The Act."

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

Which you're the star of.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

Well, I don't know if I'm the star of it, but I mean, I do make comments in there about what really happened. And that's the thing, there's so much myth that's going up about this law. When that law was passed in 1986, November of 1986, and yes, I and other parents of DPT vaccine-injured children worked on that law with Congress. They basically told us they were going to protect these companies from liability. We can either come to the table and argue for what we thought the children should get, or not come to the table, but they were going to pass the law.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

We came to the table and did the best we could. We were just a young group of parents against great odds, against the pharmaceutical industry, the medical industry and the government, that all wanted to take total liability away from these manufacturers and the doctors. We managed to get that law to not protect the doctors. When that law was passed, the doctors were still liable for medical malpractice when it came to vaccines harming a child. The other thing was the [vaccine] companies were still liable for design defect. What they got off on was failure to warn.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

Okay. This is what people just don't understand, they [the vaccine manufacturers] were still liable in a civil court of law. Okay? And what did they [Congress] do? In 1987 in the dead of the night, in December, an amendment was added to an omnibus budget bill. We knew nothing about it. And they added an amendment that completely let all the doctors and vaccine providers off the hook in a civil court of law. In hearings in '87, the companies begged Congress to give them full liability protection and Congress wouldn't do it. They only gave the doctors full liability protection.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

So [in] that law also, our unique contribution was the safety provisions: informing, recording, reporting safety provisions. VAERS (Vaccine Adverse Event Reporting System) is a result of what we did in insisting that there be a centralized vaccine adverse event in reporting system that parents and the public could report to as well as the doctors. This is a one-of-a-kind vaccine adverse event reporting system, and why we know today that more than half a million COVID vaccine reactions have been reported by the public, by doctors around this country and in other countries that use the Pfizer and the Moderna, and the Johnson & Johnson vaccines, but most of them are using Pfizer and Moderna.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

There have been more than 12,000 deaths reported to that system. So in that law, we also got that parents would have to be given written vaccine information before their children are vaccinated. It's a federal law that doctors are supposed to be giving these vaccine information statements to parents, but you know what? I helped work on the original vaccine information statements after that law was passed, and those were booklets, they were booklets, not one piece of paper. But after the law was passed, not only did they gut – the Congress and in rule making authority by the department of health and human services – they gutted the vaccine safety provisions and reduced that paper to one piece of paper.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

They took out a lot of information that should be given to parents. They gutted the safety and the compensation provisions so, today, almost no child qualifies for compensation under that law. I guess what I'm trying to say is what the law as original passed is not anything like the law that we see today. The final nail in the coffin of that law was the U.S. Supreme Court in 2011. All of the manufacturers, all the medical organizations, government organizations, all came in on the side of Wyeth in a court case called Bruesewitz v. Wyeth. It was a DPT vaccine injury case and the case was forwarded on design defect.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

That Wyeth could have made a vaccine safer, the DPT vaccine safer, and they didn't do it. And you know what that Supreme Court did? The majority, the majority led by Scalia said that the legislative history was clear, that Congress intended there to be no liability for vaccine manufacturers when that was absolutely the opposite of what the legislative history shows. And Sotomayor, Judges Sonia Sotomayor, and Ruth Bader Ginsburg wrote a brilliant dissent. And in that dissent they said, the legislative history does not show that Congress wanted to give the companies complete liability protection. So the myths that have been created about this law need to be – [there] needs to be a clearing of this. And the [1986: The Act] movie shows that.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

Yeah, great summary, Barbara. You were there, you were part of history when it was created 40 years, well, not 40, 35 years ago.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

But you're right, Dr. Mercola. You're right, that after that law was passed, the floodgates opened on more vaccines being created for children and automatically mandated. There's not been one vaccine that has been created by the pharmaceutical industry and endorsed by government that has not eventually been mandated. And what they're trying to do during this pandemic is set the stage for every adult to also be required to get every government endorsed vaccine. It is a public/private partnership between the pharmaceutical industry and government, and it's dangerous because when I came into this work, there was somewhat of a firewall between pharmaceutical industry and government. They're now one and the same, and Pharma calls the shots at the FDA, and NIH, and CDC. And that's just the plain truth of it.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

Yeah, so many things to discuss, but I wanted to comment on your citing of the statistics of the deaths and the complications from the COVID injection, which I believe are a bit dated, because when I looked at it this last weekend, it was up to 600,000 adverse effects and over 13,000 deaths. And I assure you, by the time you view this, that number will likely be 700,000, 800,000 and the deaths will probably be over 14,000. And that is just reported to VAERS, it needs to be very clearly understood.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

We know that in all likelihood, it ranges anywhere from 10 to 100 times as much, but at a minimum five times what's reported because there's a number of very well-done studies that show that under-reporting is massive. So that is the bare butt minimum. These statistics are not falsified like the COVID data and deaths have been from 2020. So I wanted to make that point. And then go on to, oh, the insulation from liability that you just discussed essentially created the opportunity for them to produce all these additional vaccines. But there was another act that was passed. I think it was the PREP (Public Readiness and Emergency Preparedness) Act that provided additional immunity in liability protection. So am I incorrect? Or what did this PREP Act additional protections provide, because they essentially almost had no liability to begin with.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

Well, after 9/11 Congress and the pharmaceuticals got together and they passed what was called BioShield legislation. It was on the backs of the idea that there were weapons of mass destruction that were going to be used against the United States. And the United States had to have legislation in place for, "pandemic or bioterrorism" emergencies and the weapons of mass destruction that were never found. And so they passed this legislation and part of it was the PREP Act. And this had to do with pandemics – declared public health emergencies. The compensation mechanism that is in the PREP Act and was reconfirmed by Congress in the spring of 2020 with regard to COVID, is a separate compensation program that's even worse than the one that the civilians, that we have had in place for the last 30-some years.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

So there's almost no hope if you're injured by a vaccine that is [created and used] under a public health emergency declaration. I don't know if they're going to switch from this PREP Act compensation program that's just a joke, the worst joke, or they're going to – now that they've licensed the vaccine, at least one of the vaccines for those 12 years and older – if they're going to switch it over to the 1986 Act compensation program, I don't know what they're going to do. But that PREP Act compensation program is terrible – called countermeasures, it's a countermeasures compensation program.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

I was one of about a half a dozen people who had the privilege of reading Bobby Kennedy's new book, “The Real Tony Fauci,” which comes out November – a must-read book. It really is one of the best books out there. And he goes into great detail about how this BioShield legislation and implementation, was really nothing more than a measure for gaming the system and, essentially, capturing tens of billions of dollars from the federal government. This is all a big money grab. That's all it is.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

And power grab.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

And power grab, yeah, they go hand in hand, actually, they really do. So thank you for including that one. But they made tons of money. And Fauci himself, who is definitely one of the cores of this whole nightmare, is responsible for allocating over a trillion dollars, $1 trillion in federal funding to researchers, principal investigators that are intimately and ultimately tied to [Big] Pharma. And there are patent issues that they are creating, which generates royalties to them. And it's this nightmare dystopia of just raping the public from the federal treasury.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

I think part of what's happened here – and I can hardly wait to read that book because I've lived this, I've known Fauci for, or I mean, I've known about him for so long when he came to NIH (National Institutes of Health) in the early 80's [crosstalk 00:25:12]-

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

Look, he's a repeat offender because he did the same thing with the HIV epidemic, and he killed a third of a million people with AZT – a third of a million people.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

Fauci has always been obsessed about developing an HIV vaccine. And in fact, Moderna just announced that they're going into clinical trials-

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

mRNA, yeah.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

of an mRNA HIV vaccine and, of course, Moderna partnered with NIAID, which is headed by Fauci [to create an mRNA COVID-19 vaccine]. So I wasn't surprised when I saw that because HIV vaccine has been not only the goal of Fauci, but also of the World Health Organization and Gavi, you know, the vaccine manufacturers. So I predict that we're going to see a big push to have everybody in the world get just a little bit of HIV so they can be protected from HIV. I think that what's really happened is Congress has decided that only the doctors at NIH and these public health officials are the ones who should be deciding public policy when really they [Congress] need to be more involved. They need to understand that the entire world is not going to be made safe by using scores and scores of vaccines all through your life.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

There has been a neglect from the very beginning of this pandemic of looking at ways to get through a course of COVID without having complications ending in hospitalization and death. And I feel I am personally affected by it, in that I had COVID in December of 2019, and I had a fairly difficult course with it for 10 weeks into the end of February of 2020. Now when I got it, of course, I didn't know what I had. But it was not a fun experience. And I was left with long COVID that lasted 16 months until I had a functional medicine doctor who tested me and found that I had a reactivated – the COVID had reactivated an Epstein-Barr infection. I'd had a very serious one when I was 18 years old and was hospitalized in my freshman year in college.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

And it [COVID] reactivated it. And she prescribed ivermectin, a short course of appropriately dosed ivermectin. And I had an amazing, amazing reduction in my symptoms that included cardiac symptoms, an AFib condition that had been diagnosed by a cardiologist. So I had all the classic symptoms of COVID, I had a classic course of long COVID, and yet I didn't know that I could have used months and months ago, ivermectin to help me get through. My energy shot up after that ivermectin. I stopped having to sleep 12 hours a day. My cardiac symptoms were significantly reduced. It was like I got my life back.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

And yet people have been – the government has gone after doctors, holistic doctors like you, who have urged people to get vitamin D, vitamin C, zinc, both ivermectin and these other licensed drugs that are safe and had been around forever. The government actively discouraged people from doing things that could have helped them recover. This is so wrong on so many levels. And so this is the colossal mismanagement of an outbreak.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

I don't think it's a mismanagement. I think it's designed and planned. They did this intentionally. This is not ineptitude by any stretch of the imagination. This has been very carefully, strategically planned.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

Well, I know when a couple of months ago, I went on the website of the World Economic Forum and what comes up? The Great Reset. And I could not believe what I was reading. Completely transparent about how they want to reset the entire world's economy.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

Yeah. That's the motivation. And when you mentioned earlier that the Congress is capitulating to the public health experts and who is the ultimate public health expert? The World Health Organization. They are the controllers, the leaders. So look at who the funding is [coming from]. And I was confused on this until I read Bobby's book, "The Real Tony Fauci," because it was thought that the United States was the biggest funder of the World Health Organization. Well, that is not true, absolutely not true. Even when – although it wasn't true when Trump removed the United States funding before he left presidency and Biden of course reinstated it – but the number one funder is Bill Gates because they were only looking at the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation's funding. What they failed to include was the Gavi contribution, which is totally funded by Gates. So when you-

Barbara Loe Fisher:

And manufacturers. Vaccine manufacturers.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

Yeah. There's probably even more ways, but he is by far the leading financial contributor to the World Health Organization and he controls the strings. He's the puppet master over there. So he gets them to say whatever he wants, and that leads into this massive suppression and censorship of any information, which counters the vaccine narrative, which is exactly what happened to you and anything like ivermectin, or hydroxychloroquine, or the nutrients that we know work so effectively are just suppressed and censored so there's only one legal alternative, and that is the vaccine or the injection. I mean, I'm not a big fan of vaccines, absolutely, as you haven't been for the last four decades, but it still is inappropriate to call this injection a vaccine.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

I call it a cell disruptor biological, because it-

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

[crosstalk 00:31:52] Dr. Zelenko calls it the kill shot.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

I remember back in the '90s, late '80s, early '90s, I can't remember the exact date when Bill Gates was charged with antitrust violation.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

That was late '90s, right.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

Gosh, I thought it was earlier '90s, but whatever.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

No, no, it was in the '90s.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

In the '90s, and I remember at the time when he almost immediately formed the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation that was going to have its centerpiece using vaccines to eradicate disease. And I thought, "That's interesting, he's going to partner with the CDC and the public health officials to promote vaccines." And I thought, "I'm going to really watch what the Justice Department does here. I'm going to watch and see how badly he gets his hand slapped on this antitrust violation." Well, he barely got his hand slapped at all. And I kept thinking, "I wonder if that was a quid pro quo."

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

Oh, absolutely it was. And if you look at some of the deposition video clips, I mean, he definitely is on the spectrum. And his response to it was just bobbing away like this during the hearing and making nonsense statements. But you're right, he got off. And it was criminal, and he was really despised by the public quite widely as was John D. Rockefeller, who actually lived and died literally a mile away from where I live. There's another point, I hate to keep going back to Bobby's book, but it's so darn good, "The Real Tony Fauci," and he has a section in there – I kind of challenge him on it – but there was one of the great mentor, not mentors, not counselor, not counselors – consultants that Rockefeller used in his transforming because he had a huge issue with public perception, too, everyone hated him because he was this tyrant or whatever.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

So his [Rockefeller's] primary consultant was Frederick Gates. Frederick Gates, who, interestingly, shares the last name as Bill Gates. And he has a section, Bobby has a section in his book that he talks about them. And this guy Gates was responsible for changing his, basically starting the philanthropic component which essentially put this halo around Rockefeller. Well, there's speculation and I challenged Bobby to find it because there's a lot of discrediting, but discrediting on the internet doesn't necessarily mean anything because that's what they do. They just claim something is false when it couldn't be any truer. But there's some concerns that this is true, but it appears that this Gates who guided Rockefeller was the great grandfather of Bill Gates, who's doing all this.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

Wow.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

I thought that was interesting.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

Wow. And it's funny how you go back in history and you look, and you can start to connect all the dots. I think what's been very telling during this pandemic is the heightened censorship of anyone who challenges the government narrative about COVID and COVID vaccines. And certainly you and I have been the subject of that censorship when NVIC (National Vaccine Information Center), when we last did this interview last year in Vaccine Awareness Week, it was before NVIC's October 2020 Fifth International Public Conference on Vaccination, which featured 51 speakers, including you, of course. And we had to hold it online because of the social distancing restrictions, we were not able to hold it in a hotel.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

But very shortly after we held that online conference, the Center for Countering Digital Hate (CCDH), which is headed by a political operative connected with the Labour Party in the United Kingdom, went after us in something called the Anti-Vaccine Playbook. And I was number one on the hit list of five people, you were on it, Bobby Kennedy, I think Del Bigtree and Andy Wakefield. We were the top five bad people-

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

Great group to be in. Great group to be in.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

Yeah. And it was all about NVIC holding this secret conference. The secret conference like this group of terrorists getting together to actually fool all the people about the COVID vaccine and COVID, and it was so ludicrous because here this was an open, public conference, highly promoted, open to anyone. It was pay per view because we had to hire professionals to try to build a new website and protect it from sabotage-

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

And ultimately we had it available viewing for free for all.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

Well, right. Let me finish the story here. So he does this international attack on the National Vaccine Information Center and those of us who he identified as public enemies, and called on social media and on the U.S. government to make sure that people like us did not have a voice in the public square on social media. [He] wanted us all taken down because we were giving out "misinformation" like we were enemies of the state, right? So what happened as soon as that came out in the early 2021, I opened up the conference for free. I said, "Fine." And I sent out an international press release.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

I said, "Okay, we're opening up our conference for free viewing for everybody to see whether this was a secret meeting or indeed was an open public conference that anybody could come to." Well, within about a month between March 2nd and May 23rd, the National Vaccine Information Center was de-platformed from Facebook, Instagram and Twitter. We're the only group that is that highly censored, we're off of three of the four major social media platforms. So we obviously have gone to alternative platforms, but we lost hundreds of thousands of followers on social media.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

The National Vaccine Information Center that has represented parents of vaccine-injured children, families of vaccine-injured children, why don't they want to hear what we have to say? And all of our information on NVIC.org and on TheVaccineReaction.org, which is our weekly journal newspaper, is all completely referenced, often using references from the government and from medical organizations, and the medical literature. So you have also been censored. After they did that to us, then they published the "Disinformation 12," of which you were Number One, and went after you viciously to try to get you knocked off of social media, as well.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

Fortunately, I saw recently that Facebook and Twitter, I think, have pushed back on the government's trying to put pressure on the social media companies to take all of the people who are dissenting from these policies off social media.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

They did it with data. Their claim was the center for CCDH, Imran Ahmed who is an unregistered foreign agent that will likely wind up in prison for violating federal rules, claimed that the 12 of us were responsible for two-thirds of the misinformation, right? Two-thirds. When Facebook did their deep dive data analysis, it turned out to be a half of 1%, not 67%, a half of 1%.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

Absolutely. And by that time, I wasn't on the "Disinformation 12," neither was Del Bigtree because we'd been taken off of social media.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

Yeah. You weren't a target. There was no reason to focus on you because you weren't contributing anything. And we still are on, we have not been de-platformed because we were very careful about what we post.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

We thought we were being careful.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

But we've been taken out of the search engines for two or three years.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

Yeah. When they can't handle the truth, they censor it, basically. And so it hasn't been an even playing field in terms of getting the information, the real information, out to the people.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

It's a classic Orwellian strategy, absolutely. And having this massive doublespeak where everything they say is essentially the opposite of what the truth is.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

And I have to, I really have to publicly congratulate you, Dr. Mercola, on when CNN went after you with their camera, like some paparazzi stalking a prey. And they hunted you down to your house in Florida while you were trying to exercise on the beach, which you do every day, I know, you walk on the beach. I have to hand it to you, I've done media for a long time and you didn't flinch. You absolutely did not let them intimidate you at all. It was an amazing thing to watch. Not only did you look super healthy, which you are, which is a great testimony to your lifestyle, but you also absolutely did not let them get you. You very calmly handled the situation in a way I have seen few people handle it when the media is trying to go after someone.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

Thanks for those kind words but I wish I could've – I would've done it a little bit differently, I would've stopped and said, "I'm sorry, I can't answer your questions, because you're not wearing a mask." And then just [inaudible 00:42:02], that would have been better. Yeah, it was good. Thanks for saying that.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

Well, I'd like to give a little bit of good news here in the midst of- [crosstalk 00:42:18].

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

Yeah, yeah. Let's focus on it, because let me say, let me just preface this by saying many who are watching this probably saw the lecture I gave at our 24th annual celebration, anniversary celebration, not annual celebration, in Cape Coral. And thankfully you followed our lead and moved down to the same area and live not too far from our offices, so you're free from much of the tyranny that is occurring in the state that you moved from. And so you attended this lecture is what I wanted to say. And then prior to me going up, there's one person that I wanted to see that I knew was in the audience was you.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

So I went and talked to you. And you shared some of this – you were so excited and joyful and saying, "This is great. Great." So I had to jump up on the stage and talk, but I want you to finish those statements here and let everyone hear why you're so happy about it.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

Well, one of the things I'm very happy about is that everyone is starting to understand that these vaccines do not prevent infection and transmission. The entire mandatory vaccination system in this country has been built on the myth that if you get vaccinated, you cannot get infected and transmit the infection to other people, that you have vaccine acquired immunity that is robust and contributes to herd immunity. When the truth is, that vaccine acquired immunity is often very temporary and sometimes you don't get it at all. And really herd immunity is more based on natural immunity and to some extent on artificially acquired immunity, that is through vaccination.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

So the term immunization really should never be used anymore. These COVID vaccines, they have acknowledged, the government has now acknowledged, cannot reliably prevent infection and transmission to other people. This is a game-changer if people will really get their arms around it. And so I am glad that has come out. I'm also glad that we're seeing people around the world stand up and fight for their freedom. What's happened in Sydney, Australia is so shocking, the lockdowns that they've had, the helicopters that have been flying overhead and warning people in Sydney that they can't come out of their homes. They will be found, they will be prosecuted. It is stunning.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

And in this country, what have we done? What NVIC has been encouraging people to do is work the system. Go into your state legislators and have personal conversations with them. Carry model state legislation, which we have created at the beginning of this pandemic, because we knew that the endgame would be mandatory COVID vaccination. And we have 21 states that have passed legislation that restrict or prevent COVID vaccine mandates or COVID vaccine passports. This is very significant. It's not talked about a lot, but it's significant. There have been several governors who have also issued executive orders. We prefer legislation because an executive order can change if another governor is elected in the next election.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

So what we are really encouraging is for people to not lose faith in the system, and to get involved at every level of government. That means your school board, your county boards, councils, your state legislatures, your federal – federal is the toughest – but at the local level, you can really make personally a difference. If you will talk to your neighbors, talk to your community, give them the information that's produced by NVIC and by Mercola.com, give them factual information that's backed up with references, and try to change the conversation in your community. And also by participating in government, because we are governed by laws and we have to change the bad laws so that we cannot have to feel this kind of oppression that we've felt for almost two years.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

Yeah. That's good. I mean, there is a glimmer of hope and you live in one of those 21 states that does have a ban against the vaccine passport. So it's hard to conceive of it being effectively implemented with nearly half the states, certainly more than a quarter of the states opposing it.

So logistically, it would be a nightmare to implement. But I don't know, does the no-fly policy by the airlines, does that supersede a vaccine passport restriction or are they isolating the passport to the requirement of – because you almost have to have a passport to demonstrate that you've been vaccinated. I mean, you could do it with those little cards, but I think that's really a temporary measure and they're ultimately going to more of a digital system, which is probably a bit more difficult to gain.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

Well, I don't want to underestimate the potential here. I mean, I'm saying that we've had some good news in like you say, a quarter to coming up on half of the states [having passed legislation banning mandated COVID vaccine or vaccine passports]. But that doesn't mean that those who are intent upon having every American have to carry a vaccine passport and preventing you from participating in society – they're not going to stop forwarding that goal. So it's a serious situation. And I talk about it in the commentary that is published on Tuesday in Vaccine Awareness Week about what has happened in the restrictions that have been put on people and what could happen.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

I'll just point out, there's a page on the CDC (Centers for Disease Control and Prevention) website that basically talks about quarantine camps and being able to detain citizens, so private citizens, in these camps should they feel that they need to be protected from the rest of society or the rest of society protected from them. Now, this is a very serious constitutional issue. The idea that you can't get on a plane or indeed if the government decides to invoke their authority over interstate commerce, which means that you cannot cross state lines, state borders, unless you've been vaccinated or have this vaccine passport.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

Because public health laws basically are state laws in this country, but they govern the people that are within the borders of the states. The feds have authority for when you cross state borders, or when you come into the external borders of U.S. states or territories. So there is a division of authority and certainly if the government, if an executive branch, a current administration, wanted to pull that trigger on interstate commerce, they could do that. And in fact, there are doctors and lawyers who are encouraging the current administration to pull that trigger. And so there's a piece of legislation in Congress right now that would prohibit you from getting into a plane in the United States and actually flying to another airport in the United States. That is a play on this interstate commerce control.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

Oh, jeez. So that's a commercial plane. I mean, you could probably fly privately, I would assume, or is that also-

Barbara Loe Fisher:

I don't know.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

Yeah, which makes it really pricey to travel. It's still possible, it's just expensive.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

But I do know that they say, one of the things they've been saying is with the official licensing of the COVID-19 vaccines, this will add fuel to the fire of mandates.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

Oh, sure. Yeah. Justification because it's not an Emergency Use Authorization anymore, it's just approved. Why don't you address that now, because I alluded to that we would, because before we went on, you had started talking about it, so let's say that for the presentation, I forgot about it. But yes, talk about, I mean, as we're recording this, this is the day we're recording, again, it's a few weeks before you're going to see this, but the FDA authorized or actually approved, formally approved the Pfizer shot for COVID. So why don't you dive deeper into that because you've got a lot of good insights.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

Well, I have not seen – because they did not hold an FDA [vaccine] advisory committee meeting that gives the argument from the manufacturers, gives the FDA briefing document, has this discussion that is open and transparent with the public. I have not seen the documents, which the companies provided the FDA to justify official licensing. It just happened literally today and again, we're taping this earlier. So I don't know what data they used. But what I can do is speak to the Emergency Use Authorization data, the clinical trials that were held in order for the companies to get an Emergency Use Authorization from the FDA to distribute the vaccines in this country. The guidance that the companies were given was that they had to provide data that showed a more than 50% effectiveness at preventing serious symptoms of COVID-19 disease.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

They were never asked to show data that the vaccine prevented infection with the SARS-CoV-2 or transmission. So the bar was set very low at the very beginning for the Emergency Use Authorization – 50% or so effectiveness at preventing symptoms of severe COVID disease that would lead to hospitalization or death. And if you look at the rhetoric that the CDC uses, you can see that they're always talking about prevention of hospitalization and death. Again, this is not the traditional, this is not what people think happens when you get a vaccine. We have been carefully taught to believe that when we get vaccinated, we will not get infected and we won't transmit that infection to other people.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

None of which are true for this injection. None.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

And for many other injections. Pertussis vaccine - I've done several commentaries looking at the evidence that pertussis vaccine, you can be vaccinated and still transmit often asymptotically, same thing with influenza vaccine, that is well-known, and the same thing for measles vaccine, and mumps and chickenpox vaccine. So that's why I said at the outset of our interview, that this is an opportunity to educate people about what vaccination really means. And it's also an argument for why these vaccines should not be mandated. This is a pharmaceutical product. In this case, it's a biological pharmaceutical product that has never been made like this. This is an entirely new technology. It is truly an experiment on the human race, because they did not do the kind of science that they should have done to give an Emergency Use Authorization and certainly I'm waiting to look at the data, but I would-

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

The data doesn't exist. All those trials you referenced, they had control groups. Well, like four or five, six months ago, they eliminated the control groups with the justification that they couldn't withhold this unbelievably helpful strategy to prevent the pandemic or to limit it.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

That's right. That's right.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

So there's no control of, we have no clue what it is, and this is by design, and if you look at Peter McCullough's work on who's been heavily involved in many studies and even vaccine trials, where there's this data events monitoring board that's initiated, that was totally excluded. They intentionally removed those safeguards from this whole process. And if they had been implemented, Peter was really clear because he's been in these types of trials before, they would have had to stop this COVID injection in late January, because of all the deaths that occurred.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

That's right. And you've talked about antibody-dependent enhancement-

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

Yeah. A lot of people talked about that. That's the big concern for the future, right.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

That's right. But they also, people have been so wrapped up in fear, paralyzed by fear because of the constant - you cannot turn on a radio or watch television, or open up a newspaper online and not see the constant barrage of propaganda that everyone's going to die. Well, this is still a less than 1% mortality rate for this infection. No question, it can be very serious. I know it can be very serious.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

You had it.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

But the people who are-

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

But now you are truly immunized now, you can't get it again.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

I know. I mean, I feel they're not acknowledging the importance of the contribution of natural immunity that people like I have, who got it when they didn't even know what it was or at least if they knew they weren't telling people.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

And that's one of the most reprehensible crimes, that they are excluding that. The true, authentic resistance to another infection or any variant of this, the one that does not produce vaccine – not vaccine – variants like the leaky COVID injection does, which causes the variants. It's not immunized people like you who cause the variants, it's the people who got the injection where it mutates and they can't defeat it because it's so simple-targeted. It just doesn't do it. So it's just a catastrophe that they don't even acknowledge that it's our fundamental, our intrinsic immune capacity would that supposedly these COVID injections are supposed to augment and stimulate our own immune system. Without an immune system, they wouldn't work at all.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

They work on producing antibodies, what the heck do you think produces antibodies? Is your immune system, but you need to use killer lymphocytes and [crosstalk 00:57:13] T-cells. So it's far more than just the antibodies and specifically limited antibodies that cannot shift and morph to be more universal to prevent the variants.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

And I'm in a high-risk group, I'm over 65, I actually have a very hyperactive immune system, I heal very quickly, but I have anaphylactic reactions to foods and medicines and chemicals. But I know why I got sick, I was not taking care of myself in the winter, in December of 2019. I was burning the candle at both ends, I wasn't sleeping. I was skipping my supplements. I wasn't taking my supplements and vitamins every day. I was skipping my gym appointments, I wasn't going to the gym. I had all these work projects to get done and Christmas shopping, and I said, "Oh, it doesn't matter." Well, it does matter. It matters.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

It does matter, big time. Yeah. It's just like when you're flying and the flight attendant announces, "Listen, if the oxygen masks drop, you've got to take care of yourself first, not the person next to you even if it's your child," because if you aren't functioning at a high level, there's no one else you can take care of. And I had this argument with Vladimir Zelenko because he's guilty on steroids with the same strategy and he's ruining his health because of it. So yeah, you've got to take care of yourself first. Self-sacrifice is baloney, you cannot help other people if you're not healthy yourself.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

So true. Boy did I learn the hard way.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

So what would you, I'm sure you thought about it, in the last year, what would you ascribe or how would you describe the accomplishments that NVIC has been able to do? What do you think is some of the biggest victories in the past year have been?

Barbara Loe Fisher:

I think that this year, so many people have been contacting us. We have a counseling service and we help people, families who contact us, who are going through a vaccine reaction or who are asking for information. But one of the things that we're really excited about is we're going to be launching a brand new website in 2022 that you helped us with your donations, helped us be able to do. Very expensive project, but something that I'm very excited about. We're also going to be launching an updated, finally, NVIC Advocacy Portal website.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

But we have been able to, also our The Vaccine Reaction newsletter, weekly newsletter, has seen an almost 50% increase in subscribers. It's a free newsletter. And this shows you that people are thirsty for this information. I know that your newsletter also, even though you've gone down to a 48-hour window, that you keep your articles up. I know that you have a big increase in your subscription base to, again, showing that the public is really interested in having information. But we have been putting an awful lot of our efforts into the states and trying to educate people and train them on how to be effective vaccine choice advocates in their state.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

This takes a lot of organizing, and it takes a lot of collaboration between other groups who are on the frontlines in the states. We could never have done, we wouldn't be here, Dr. Mercola, if it hadn't been for the support that you have given us over the years. And I feel positive, I feel that the people in this country are going to remember that freedom is something they have to fight for. It's taken us a little bit of time to come out of our shock because they punched us around pretty good in 2020. I think that people are waking up now and are going to start to really fight back.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

Yeah. That's great. I think it was last year that I got a really nice Christmas present, because the Washington Post did another hit piece on me and they exposed me as the primary funder of the anti-vax movement. I think it was 2020. It might've been 2019 but I think it was 2020. And I'm proud of that because it isn't anti-vax, it's vaccine safety, that is the key word.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

And informed consent.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

And informed consent. And informed consent, thank you for reminding about that, is absolutely 100% unquestionably impossible if you censor the information that tells them what the side effects and the damage that this injection can cause. So they are essentially making informed consent impossible with this propaganda and censorship.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

You're absolutely correct. It's all about suppressing the information and I'm just so glad that there is this growing minority of doctors and scientists and medical workers, who have been on the frontlines, who are starting to stand up and they're risking their careers to do it.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

Yeah. I think that is the true silver lining in this mess, is that there were a number of clinicians and leaders, potential leaders who maybe had some concerns, but when the censorship and the propaganda is so blatant, so obviously blatant and the damage and the deaths that they are causing is reprehensible malfeasance, they're taking ground, or taking a stand and standing their ground and coming up and inspiring many others to do the same. So we needed something like this. In some ways it's like an alcoholic and it's commonly appreciated that many alcoholics tend not to get into recovery until they're in the gutter, right?

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

So we've almost had to get this basically tyrannical intervention exposing the real threats to our personal liberties that they're seeking to do and then waking people up. And as a result, resisting, after they're aware of what their ulterior motivations are.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

Right. There's a chapter in "DPT: A Shot in the Dark," the book that I coauthored with Harris Coulter in 1985, where I chose a quote and it has to do with something like, "Suffering and nothing else is the catalyst for social reform." And I knew that we would have to go through a period of suffering because they have revealed themselves. Those who are authoritarian, forced vaccinators have revealed themselves in the last 18 months. And that reveal has caused people to take a step back and look and see what their real goal is.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

Yeah. So it's real obvious, but what I've learned, too, in my attempts to understand what's going on is that this is, not only is it the greatest experiment in the history of humanity, but this is also the most effective propaganda campaign in the history of humanity.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

Absolutely.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

Completely on a global basis, and nothing even comes close. And that propaganda is so effective that it literally is causing a mass psychosis and the people who have been propagandized, which is kind of coming close to the majority of the population, they have essentially abandoned any rational thought on this issue. Their mind has closed down, clamped down for a variety of different mechanisms that we don't have time to go into, psychological components. But essentially, their parent or their sibling could die from a vaccine literally within 30 seconds of being injected right in front of them and they are so propagandized [that they say] "No that vaccine is safe, it was something else." And they would go out and get a booster tomorrow. I mean, that's how severe it is. And I know that sounds like an extreme example, but I have seen and heard of many that are pretty similar to that.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

Yes. And the lack of a recognition that there are underlying immune and other types of disorders, metabolic disorders, that can predispose you to having a bad course with any infection, not just COVID, that the issue of obesity, of diabetes, of underlying health care problems that particularly affect people as they grow older is not being factored in. But the concentration on vaccinating all the younger groups, particularly now, we're going to see a real push to vaccinate children, as soon as the vaccine is approved for use in children, is really disturbing. And just the whole way they've approached this is so disingenuous and so questionable that it's really, when you take a cold, hard look at it, it's almost beyond belief.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

Absolutely.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

And so who was it? Goebbels, I think, who said, "You have to tell the big lie." That's the only way that people really will swallow it. It has to be a big one, and there have been a number of them that they have forwarded. And it makes me sad because I spent over 20 years as a consumer representative on vaccine advisory committees. It was in the late '80s, the '90s, early 2000s, but mostly the '90s, when consumer advocates were still asked to be part of the conversation by the government. It was a time when – a totally different time than now – because they [consumers] are not allowed at the table anymore. People like me are not allowed at the table anymore-

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

Even credentialed icons of academia are not allowed, with hundreds of publications and editors of multiple journals, are not allowed at the table if they have any disagreement in their viewpoints.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

But I was just representing the families of vaccine-injured children. And we deserve to be part of the conversation because we were the ones that they're asking – they're asking us to trust them with their policies and so I would come forward with the questions that we had. And I was allowed at the time, and maybe I was allowed at the time because they didn't really think that it mattered. It was just a token representation. But then in the 2000s, all of a sudden I was viewed as a threat because I think more people were opening up their minds and all of a sudden, they thought, "Well, maybe this isn't such a good idea."

Barbara Loe Fisher:

And so now, there's just, everybody's got a march in lockstep. Nobody can have an open mind, nobody can ask a question, nobody can criticize government. There was an article published where a leading vaccine developer called for the criminalization of criticism of scientists and doctors who work for government, that it would be made a hate crime to criticize people like Fauci.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

Is it Peter Hotez?

Barbara Loe Fisher:

Peter Hotez.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

Yeah, yeah. He also called for a cyber warfare for the people like me, and the "Disinformation Dozen." These are such a big threat to humanity that we need to engage cyber warfare on these individuals. That was a Nature article, that wasn't Science. That was Nature.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

That's pretty dangerous talk.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

Oh, this guy's a lunatic.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

I mean, people listen to people like Hotez, you know, internationally. And well, I think that, in my heart of hearts, I believe people are going to stand up and fight for their freedom.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

Yeah, they will.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

It's not a guarantee, but I'm certainly hoping they will.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

Yeah. I know. So we got to close this, close it on a ray of hope and optimism is that I'm convinced we will win in the end. Things will probably get a little worse before we win, but we will win. They just cannot defeat this movement of understanding that there is a nucleus of people who are awake and alert and understand the truth. And they will not be conned, they will not be conned. So we need to support and encourage them and one of the best tools we have to do that, especially in this area is NVIC.org, because you will not find them on social media because they've been censored and banned, because they're too big a threat.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

So why don't you join me in continuing to support this incredible organization that I've been so proud to be associated with, which is, I think every dollar you donate, I'm going to match it, so that's how much I believe in it. I've been blessed to be supported by most of you and 10% of the money that I earn gets donated back to charities like NVIC, and I'm proud to do that because we have to make a dent in this. We can't let them win. We have to defeat them and this is one of the ways that we do that. So anything you want to add to that, Barbara, before we close?

Barbara Loe Fisher:

No, I'm with you, Dr. Mercola. I keep the faith and I encourage people to take action because it's about taking personal action. It's not about liking something on Facebook or expecting somebody else to do it for you.

Dr. Joseph Mercola:

You got to put your money where your mouth – I forget what the aphorism is, but you got to take action. So that's good. All right. Well, put your money where your mouth is, I think it's the term. Okay. All right. So thanks for watching and thanks for all the work you do, Barb, and continue the fight. And we're going to win this thing.

Barbara Loe Fisher:

We are.
